JFK-Nikita Confab Unlikely To End Dispute Over Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top level U.S.-Soviet talks on Berlin failed to yield any evidence today that a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting next month could put an end to the Berlin crisis.

President Kennedy spent 2 hours and 15 minutes in discussion with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko at the White House Thursday, and Gromyko and Secretary of State Dean Rusk then continued the talks at the State Department for 4 1/2 hours—until after midnight.

A department spokesman said there was no change in the positions of either side in the Berlin dispute—positions which are regarded here as putting the Soviet Union and the Western powers on a collision course over West Berlin's future.

The spokesman also said the talks yielded "no perceptible progress" toward an accord and that neither side put forward any new proposals.

As he left the White House, Gromyko said he and Kennedy had discussed several important matters, one being Berlin. He did not specify any others. He characterized the talk as useful.

Asked about the prospect of Soviet Premier Khrushchev visiting the United States, Gromyko said, "At this moment I have nothing to say on this subject."

He thus left up in the air the question of Khrushchev's plans. But it is known that the Soviet leader is seriously considering a trip to the United Nations in New York next month and that he would like to talk with Kennedy about Berlin.

Kennedy is understood to have reservations about such a meeting unless there is hope it will result in easing the dispute. However, he has said that if Khrushchev comes to the United States he will see him.

Following the meeting at the State Department Gromyko told reporters that the Soviet position on the German peace treaty problem is the same as has been stated before.

This position is that the Soviet Union intends to make a separate peace treaty with East Germany which would, in its view, give the German Communist regime full sovereignty over Western supply lines to West Berlin.

Kennedy administration leaders say they believe a severe Berlin crisis is in prospect for later this year or possibly early in 1963. This crisis could be brought about by the Soviet Union signing a treaty with East Germany if the East Germans—with Soviet backing—then sought to take full control of the supply lines.

Gromyko appeared to be in an easy, even jovial, mood after the White House and the State De-

Ohio Realty Tax Equalization By '64 Seen Likely

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohioans who pay real estate taxes may be in for another equalization program. But it probably won't come until 1964.

There's been talk at the State Board of Tax Appeals since at least 1961 about taking a statewide look at the values assigned property by county auditors for real estate tax purposes.

Edwin F. Sawicki, the board's chairman, says however, that he would rather wait to see what the legislature will do in 1963.

It's possible, Sawicki says, that lawmakers might set up a single yardstick for property appraisal in all 88 counties, perhaps using cost of reproducing the physical improvements on the property in a given year, minus depreciation and obsolescence.

By law, counties must re-appraise property once in every six years. Since Jan. 1, 1959, the board has directed them to use 1956 construction costs for buildings and other structures.

Twenty-three counties still are re-appraising property on the 1956 cost basis, and Sawicki says this is another reason for holding off on any statewide survey. He says the counties should be finished by July, noting that "it takes about a year to carry out one of these re-appraisals in a county."

It's been 10 years since the last equalization. The board told county

Then Commits Suicide

Czechoslovak Official Shoots Wife To Death

NEW YORK (AP)—A Czechoslovak diplomat murdered his wife in their Manhattan apartment Thursday, then led police on a wild, two-state auto chase before cracking up his big limousine in Pennsylvania and putting a bullet into his head.

The diplomat, Karel Zizka, about 40, an attaché of the Czech United Nations mission, was in critical condition today in St. Luke's Hospital, Fountain Hill, Pa., outside of Bethlehem. He also has a shoulder wound, inflicted by a Pennsylvania state trooper.

The body of Zizka's brown-haired wife, Vera, 40, a bullet through her head, lay unnoticed in their apartment in the Czech mission on upper Madison Avenue for hours as Zizka, leaving behind a note telling of the murder and his suicide intent, began his frenzied 75-mile flight. He drove a black Cadillac, owned by the mission and bearing diplomatic license plates.

Roaring away from the mission building, Zizka's car was involved in two minor traffic accidents near his home. He got out of them by claiming diplomatic immunity. Zizka, 6-foot-2 and 240 pounds, then headed the car into New Jersey and stepped on the gas as he sped west on Route 22. Three Jersey State Police cars were after Zizka at speeds up to 110 miles an hour when the limousine crossed the state line, where Pennsylvania highway patrolmen took up the chase.

Near Easton, Pa., Zizka's car roared off the road, down an embankment, and overturned.

Cpl. John Uditis, alerted by radio, found the limousine with Zizka lying beside it.

"The man was lying there on his stomach," Uditis said. "He had a cigarette in his left hand and his right hand was concealed from view under his body."

Advancing with gun drawn Uditis ordered Zizka to bring his right hand into view. But, said the trooper, "he just kept on smoking and kept his eyes trained on me. Upon my second order to bring out his hand empty it came out with a revolver in it. He pointed it at me and I fired."

In the next instant another shot rang out. Zizka had put his revolver to his right temple.

Inside the car, police said they found two broken bottles of vodka.

In the Zizka apartment were broken bottles of wine, whisky and gin, and wild disorder. The official Czech statement said: "The flat was in a terrible state."

One General District Of Health Urged

"Organizing for Effective Health Services" was the topic of a talk delivered last night by Miss Frances McGovern of Akron, chairman of the State Public Utilities Commission, as she spoke to 25 members and guests of the League of Women Voters at the Masonic Temple.

Her talk emphasized what she feels is the need to combine the five separate health districts in Columbiana County to give better service to residents for the same money that is now spent.

At the present time in Columbiana County, each of the four cities, Salem, East Palestine, East Liverpool and Wellsville, has its own health district. The fifth is the Columbiana County health district which includes all of the area outside the four municipalities.

In 1959, she proposed a law which the Ohio legislature passed, dealing with the combining of health districts.

Miss McGovern declared the per capita expenditure for public health in the state is $1.52, whereas the ideal expenditure is $2.50. Salem is highest in the county with $1.40.

She and Galen Greenisen, county commissioner, conducted a question-and-answer period following the talk.

JFK Back on Campaign Trail In Cleveland

Should Engage In Some of Toughest Battles To Date

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy jumps back on the campaign trail today—and smack in the middle of some of the toughest fights this election has produced.

After a midmorning takeoff, Kennedy's schedule called for:

A noon speech in downtown Cleveland, with probable plugs for a strong Democratic House, for Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who has rough going in his battle for reelection, and for Sen. Frank J. Lausche, a Democrat who has often been lukewarm on Kennedy proposals.

An afternoon visit to Lincoln's tomb in Springfield, Ill., followed by a speech at the state fairgrounds.

A speech at an evening banquet in Chicago.

Here Kennedy is expected to try to build up more enthusiasm for Rep. Sidney R. Yates, who is attempting to unseat Everett M. Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader.

This speech is awaited with special interest. In his official capacity Dirksen drops in on the President weekly when Congress is in session, and at least occasionally supports Kennedy on key foreign issues.

Will Kennedy go all-out in demanding Dirksen's defeat?

Or will he gracefully couch his phrases in general terms, as he so often does, and simply call the Republicans the bad guys and the Democrats the good guys?

Before Kennedy returns to the White House, around midnight Sunday, he will have gone all the way to the West Coast, delivered political speeches in six different states and made what has been called a nonpolitical appearance in Seattle.

The President closes the World's Fair there Sunday.

Since this is officially labeled a nonpolitical act, the taxpayers will ante up for the trip to Seattle and the Democratic National Committee will pay for the side junkets.

Travel expense is no small item. Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, says the Democrats pay $2,350 an hour for the big presidential jet when politics are the sole motivation.

This is Kennedy's second attempt to win Ohio voters during the off-year campaign, and even his best friends point out his task is formidable.

Republicans lead in House seats in Ohio, 16 to 7. The state is gaining a seat under the new census.

In Illinois, the Democrats are ahead 14 to 11 but the census cuts out a seat. Democrats fear it may be theirs.

Hurricane Ella Remains At Sea

Gale Force Winds Hit Carolina Coast

CAPE HATTERAS, N.C. (AP)—Hurricane Ella remained almost stationary in the Atlantic today, while the outer fringes of the massive storm were felt along the North Carolina coast.

The Weather Bureau said the storm was almost stationary at 5 a.m. (Eastern Standard Time) and was expected to remain that way for the next 12 hours, followed by a slow northeasterly movement in the following 12 hours.

The movement of the hurricane packing winds up to 90 m.p.h. near its eye would continue to keep the center well away from the coast. For the present, Ella's center remained about 290 miles south of Cape Hatteras, where it has been since Thursday.

But her gale-force winds, those up to 54 m.p.h., extending outward about 300 miles in all directions, were being felt all the way from Wilmington north to Nags Head. There were bounding seas along the North Carolina coast.

A hurricane watch was in effect from Wilmington to Nags Head and gale warnings as far north as the Virginia Capes. Small craft warnings were displayed all the way to Cape May, N.J.

Although the forecasters said no important change in her size or intensity was expected, hurricane-wise coastal residents batted down their hatches. Many recall hurricanes of the past which sat off the coast for days, then turned suddenly inland.

DiSalle Makes Recommendation

Rhodes Testimony In Liquor Probe Is Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he thinks his Republican gubernatorial opponent, James A. Rhodes, should testify before a special grand jury. But the counsel for the group says it will be up to the jury if Rhodes is called.

A decision, however, probably will not come until next week. The grand jury, investigating alleged influence peddling in the State Liquor Department, has recessed until Monday.

DiSalle's suggestion came Thursday in a letter to Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy. He urged Rhodes and two of his aides, William Morris and Roy Martin, deputy auditors, be called on the basis of sources.

The governor said the information by letter and telephone indicated that Morris and Martin have met with the star missing witness in the case, Chicago distillery president Joseph Makler, in Chicago and that Makler was present for meetings in Rhodes' hotel room in Cleveland.

Dates of the alleged meetings were not disclosed.

"In view of Mr. Makler's disappearance, possibly the state auditor or the hereinabove named employees—Mr. Morris and Mr. Marion—might be in a position to give the grand jury information as to the whereabouts of Mr. Makler," DiSalle wrote McElroy.

Morris, who handled Liquor Department audits for Rhodes until three years ago, said that since then "I have not met with or talked with or communicated with Martin, now handling liquor audits, was unavailable for comment. Rhodes was out of the city campaigning.

Special counsel for the grand jury, Adrian B. Fink Jr., a Republican attorney from Cleveland, picked by DiSalle to handle the investigation, said he would submit any information received to the grand jury to see what it wanted to do with it.

Before recessing for the weekend, the jury heard testimony from Liquor Director George R. Dick and representatives of the Sales Tax Division and county auditor about the records of

Power Failure In Ranger 5 Seen As Cause

Scientists Claim Nuclear Testing Could Be Reason

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The United States' third straight attempt to scout the moon by television has failed—possibly because of damage to the Ranger 5 lunar rocket by radiation from recent high altitude nuclear blasts.

The 755-pound camera toting spacecraft, launched Thursday from Cape Canaveral, Fla., ran out of electrical power eight hours and 44 minutes later.

Scientists said this meant it would be unable to correct its course and would miss the moon by 300 miles.

It also meant Ranger 5 would not be able to operate its television camera nor to land a quake-measuring device on the moon's surface.

Pasadena's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which built Ranger 5 and is tracking it through space, said the spacecraft apparently failed to draw electrical power from its wing-like solar panels to operate its instruments.

Its only source of power then was a small reserve battery with a life of eight to nine hours. That battery went dead just as scientists were trying to command the spacecraft to fire a small rocket that would re-aim it at the moon.

Cause of the failure of the solar power system was not announced, but there was unofficial speculation by some space experts that the craft's delicate solar cells could have been damaged by radiation from recent high altitude nuclear blasts over the Pacific.

"It's too early to say what went wrong," a laboratory spokesman said. "We may never be sure. All we know at the moment is that the spacecraft failed to get power from its solar panels."

Radiation of the kind emitted in nuclear explosions sometimes is trapped in the dangerous belt of radiation surrounding the earth. Ranger 5 had to go through this belt on its flight toward the moon.

This was the third straight failure in the hard-luck Ranger program to scout the moon electronically for upcoming manned moonships.

Ranger 4 crashed-landed on the back side of the moon last April but failure of a timing device prevented it from sending back television pictures.

Ranger 3 gathered too much speed at launching last January and missed the moon by 22,000 miles. Rangers 1 and 2 were test vehicles not aimed at the moon.

Four previous moon shots, in the Pioneer and Able programs, failed in their missions to rocket a payload to or around the moon.

With each Ranger launch running about $16 million, total cost of the nine failures was estimated to exceed $150 million.

A source at Cape Canaveral said the sixth Ranger spacecraft, scheduled for launching in January, probably would be delayed while the string of failures is studied.

If all had gone well, the Ranger 5 would have taken more than 100 pictures of the moon Sunday from 2,600 miles down to 15 miles. Without electrical power on board, Ranger 5 cannot eject the capsule. Instead, scientists said, the spacecraft will shoot past the moon and go into an orbit around the sun.

Fire Levels Williams' Barn at Rogers

ROGERS — The recently remodeled, three-story barn on the Harry Williams premises on the Rogers — Clarkson Rd., a fourth mile southeast of Rogers, was destroyed by fire Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were visiting their daughter, Mrs. James Horton of Columbiana, at the time of the fire. An inventory of the fire loss is expected to be made today.

Some chickens were known to be lost, but it is believed other livestock on the farm was in the pasture at the time. Some grain, straw and 1,500 bales of hay were destroyed.

The Rogers Volunteer Fire Department, first called at 9:30 p.m., enlisted the aid of the Negley Volunteer Fire Department at 10:10 p.m. Approximately 30 volunteer firemen fought the fire steadily for more than an hour, until it was believed the fire was under control. At 11:45 p.m. the Rogers firemen were again called when an apparent wind shift fanned the fire again.

David Brugh of Rogers turned in the first alarm.

The white frame barn had been remodeled and re-painted this year. The first and third floors had been used for storage, and the middle floor off a ramp had housed livestock.

More than 150 persons witnessed the fire.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Mineral Oil Is Not Safe Laxative

Some people reach for mineral oil when they think they need a laxative. Others put it in a frying pan for cooking. I would not advise you to use it either way.

Dr. Brandstadt

My objections are based on the fact that mineral oil is indigestible and passes through the digestive tract unchanged. Advertisers admit this and present it as an advantage but here is a joker in the pack. Being an indigestible oil, it coats over the finely divided food particles in the upper digestive tract and thereby allows them to pass through the body undigested or partially digested.

Such an interference with digestion is indigestion whether it produces all the usual symptoms associated with indigestion or not.

IN ADDITION TO robbing the body of essential nutrients, mineral oil allows food particles to be swept undigested from the upper digestive tract, where a normal breaking down of complex chemicals into simpler compounds should take place, into the lower bowel or colon where they are met by fermentative organisms. These otherwise harmless germs attack the undigested food and produce gas and other irritating by-products. When this occurs from whatever cause over a period of several months or years the condition known as irritable bowel or mucous colitis is almost sure to result.

ANOTHER DISADVANTAGE of the use of mineral oil as a laxative that is bland in name only is that the dosage is hard to regulate and when taken in even slightly excessive amounts a very troublesome leakage of oil through the rectum is likely to occur.

You can now appreciate why I would discourage the use of mineral oil in salad dressing and in frying. It is true that the calories in mineral oil, since they are not absorbed into the blood, do not add to a person's weight, but the fact that the oil interferes with normal digestion as I have indicated applies to this use of mineral oil as well as to its use as a laxative. There are better ways to combat constipation and overweight than by the use of this oil.

Q—Could the use of mineral oil every day cause cancer?

A—This is a distinct possibility. Much depends on whether the mineral oil is derived from coal tar, shale or petroleum. The mineral oil obtained from petroleum is less likely to cause cancer than that obtained from coal tar or shale. The process used in producing the mineral oil is also important.

The refining process known as cracking increases the likelihood of cancer formation. When mineral oil is used by the average person he does not know either its source or how it was produced.

The Lakes to River Highway

Three years is a very short time as highway construction projects go, but the State Highway Department is confident the 148-mile freeway between East Liverpool and Ashtabula can be completed in that length of time.

Dedication of the East Liverpool expressway was a significant event Wednesday because it marked the completion of the southern terminus of the riverlake road. The north end at Ashtabula was opened a year ago.

The department's optimism regarding the north-south road, which eventually will become State Route 11, is based on the fact that each particular section is being planned by consulting engineering firms and that separate contracts will be let to speed construction. One firm, for example, is drawing plans for the nearby 11-mile stretch between Route 224 in Mahoning County and State Route 164 near Lisbon in Columbiana County. A Route 30 tie-in also is planned near Lisbon.

It was not too many years ago that the river-like highway was just a dream but the cooperation of state officials and civic leaders here and in other eastern Ohio communities has brought about the start of the improvement that even the federal government was willing to invest in.

In the years to come this new highway will play an important role in the county's future growth and expansion.

Ben Bella's Two Friends

All that most Americans care to know about Ahmed Ben Bella, the fiery nationalist leader who emerged from chaos as premier of Algeria, is the humorously memorable fact he was the dignitary who brought Caroline Kennedy back into the news.

Caroline and her playmates were shouting "Bang!" and imitating spoken orders during ceremonies for Premier Ben Bella on the White House grounds last Monday. This was the first time the grounds had been used in this way, and the temptation was too much for Caroline.

The Algerian premier then hid himself to Havana for similar ceremonies as the guest of Fidel Castro. This caused Americans to forgive Caroline for her unscheduled part in the Ben Bella ceremonies. But there's more to Ben Bella than a two-faced neutralist who cuddles up to the United States solemnly one day and is full of fun in communist Cuba the next.

This man had two friends in the New World when he needed help. One was Fidel Castro, who believed Algeria should be independent long before France wearied of trying to hold it against its collective will. The other was John F. Kennedy, then a senator from Massachusetts.

On July 2, 1957, Sen. Kennedy demanded that the United States stop all support for French repression of Algerian rebellion and seek a settlement based on Algerian independence. President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles blasted him for his view. President Rene Coty of France blasted him. Robert Lacoste, the French minister residing in Algeria, called him a "young, ambitious senator" who had become a spokesman for the "old maids of the United States."

Later, French officialdom, inspired by Charles de Gaulle, conceded that the costly effort to put down the rebellion was hopeless and made a settlement. John F. Kennedy was premature but he was not wrong. He did not deserve the blasting he got from the leaders of his own country and the Republic of France.

Ben Bella visiting John Kennedy and Fidel Castro. It's a strange combination; it couldn't be any stranger. Premier Ben Bella's wild-eyed associates back home cursed him for coming to Washington. Havana yes, Washington no.

But he came to Washington to greet the one friend the Algerian nationalists found in the U.S. government during the years that Ben Bella and other leaders of the nationalist movement were being held in jail. He went to Havana to greet another friend.

Community Service

In Salem they don't leave it to Beaver. They let the Kiwanians do it.

The Kiwanis Club's latest community contribution is a $500 check to the Salem Public Library for purchase of the first unit of library and reference services for the students attending the new Kent State Academic Center here.

These specialized reference books are sorely needed by the 150 students enrolled in the KSU extension program which began for the first time here last month. Some of the pupils are currently driving to Kent to get certain reference texts.

The Kent Center here is a wonderful addition to Salem's diversified educational program and the Kiwanians are to be commended for their interest. Club members lost no time in turning over the proceeds of a recent benefit to the library board and it is assumed the library will be as prompt in getting the needed books.

The Kiwanians' active interest in Salem's cultural and recreational programs is a good example for other organizations interested in community service.

One of the best indications of age is a man really anxious to get home on time.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

I believe if we hang on long enough researchers will figure out how to get rid of fat bodies, with premature heart attacks and all. But I am afraid of being destroyed in the meantime by the fat-headedness that is increasing by leaps, bounds and pounds.

There is a market in this country, in my opinion, for a box with a snug lid and a fitting for attaching it to the exhaust system of an automobile so small animals can be put to sleep painlessly without paying a fee for euthanasia. It's the fee that causes many animals to be turned loose to run at large and ultimately to starve, be killed on the highway or picked up for public euthanasia.

I admit that the outcome of the baseball World Series decided on the Pacific side of the Rocky Mountains gripped me with the same intensity as the outcome of the Grand Prix in Paris—and I don't even know what a Grand Prix is.

You can tell what kind of a character a fellow is by a thing like this, I suppose. But I have never knowingly risked getting into a traffic jam, which I consider to be collective insanity. I wait until everybody else has disappeared, then make my move. I get home about the same time.

It always comes as a shock to learn that entertainers have opinions about politics and world affairs, the same as wiggit manufacturers, bankers and members of Ladies Clubs. We think entertainers, if they have opinions, should shut up and pretend to be social blank cartridges.

I howled over a surmise in This Week that burly athletes are motivated by a desire to prove something to their mothers. There could be something to it, especially if you consider the likelihood they are trying to show up their own fathers.

The rub in the Monroe Doctrine and all the thinking that has gone into it and come out of it is that we scuttled it as a talking point when we embraced the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Truman Doctrine, which asserted our right to nib into Old World politics. The Monroe Doctrine assumed we'd lay off the Old World if it laid off the New World.

I am waiting patiently, as always, for a candidate for an office to win my vote by looking me in the eye and saying, "I have no qualifications to fill this office, but I need the money badly and don't know where else I could get it."

I cannot buy the idea that the efficiency of a president of the United States can be measured by the time he spends in the White House. I believe, rather, it is related to the breadth of his knowledge and his ability to make decisions with a balanced mind and an energetic body.

Each autumn when the days shorten I am fascinated because I know my way around our place in Rosy Fingered Dawn so well I can walk across fields in the dark, remembering the locations of rocks, stumps and holes subconsciously, the same way I remember the location of furniture and tables in a darkened house.

Human nature being what it is, I shouldn't be alarmed because people are blaming the riot on the University of Mississippi campus on "outsiders" never mentioning what caused the "outsiders" to be there. All of us have this trait—blame it on everything else when we pull a blooper.

When I think back over Merrie England as I saw it last summer I forget castles, cathedrals, universities and ruins and remember lying on my back in the grass and having strawberries, bity cheese, wine, canned meat and bread for lunch along the roadside, where touring Britons eat not only lunch but breakfast "elevenes," tea and supper.

Soviet Actions In Cuba Scuttle Monroe Doctrine

By DAVID LAWRENCE

What really is the policy of the Kennedy administration in relation to the Communist occupation of Cuba?

David Lawrence, Soviet government on its part has made very clear what has happened to America's historic policy known as the Monroe Doctrine. Here is a news dispatch by United Press International a few days ago from Moscow:

"The Kremlin Sunday listed Premier Fidel Castro's Cuba among the Communist nations for the first time and gave it precedence over Yugoslavia and Communist China in listing the traditional slogans for the 45th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution on Nov. 7."

For all practical purposes, the Soviet government has set up its system in Cuba and transformed that country into a Communist colony.

President Kennedy has made no public protest to Moscow. Nor has Congress done so.

The resolution adopted by both houses merely cautions the Communists not to carry out any armed attack or military offensive against any other nation in this hemisphere. It's apparently all right for them to keep on doing what they have been doing in Cuba.

No steps are indicated to prevent the Communists from carrying on their activities in other parts of Latin America unless they try to use armed force to achieve their ends.

THUS HAS the Monroe Doctrine been scuttled. Communist activity—and even the Communist takeover of any other Latin American country—is, in effect, sanctioned today by U.S. policy. Only it must not be done by military means.

Actually, the Soviets didn't openly assist in the military operations that set up the Castro regime in Cuba in the first place, 5,000 military men to help Castro maintain himself in power.

As late as April 1961, the Kennedy administration was willing to help by military means the Cubans who tried to liberate their homeland. But after the expedition was bungled and the President, at a crucial moment withheld military air support, the administration retreated still further by declaring publicly it will intervene only if Cuba attacks some other country.

The Communist occupation of Cuba is, therefore, accepted by the State Department just as the Berlin Wall was accepted.

There is, of course, an appeasement faction in this country which has a considerable influence with President Kennedy. This school of thought insists that the Monroe Doctrine isn't international law, or that it has become outmoded because the United States has from time to time stationed troops in South-east Asia and in Western Europe and in Korea.

IN EACH CASE the United States had taken the measures of military defense at the request of the existing governments or by an agreement of allies. The Soviet Union can contend that it is doing the same thing in Cuba. While this may satisfy Moscow's policy makers, it doesn't diminish or modify the responsibility of the United States under the Monroe Doctrine.

This doctrine was recognized explicitly in the covenant of the League of Nations as international law by agreement. The covenant was ratified by most of the nations of the world, including the Soviet Union, and the Monroe Doctrine is as much a part of international law today as any regional arrangement.

In fact, the charter of the United Nations explicitly recognizes regional arrangements as not in conflict with its own purposes.

Oddly enough, the joint resolution adopted recently by Congress says in its preamble:

"Whereas President James Monroe, announcing the Monroe Doctrine in 1823, declared that the United States would consider any attempt on the part of European powers to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety."

THIS IS a reaffirmation of the words of the doctrine, but actually the main part of the resolution itself doesn't go on to implement that declaration.

The subsequent paragraphs merely say that Cuba must not attack or threaten any other country. Certainly the Monroe Doctrine isn't needed to formulate any United States policy to defend itself militarily or to defend other nations in this hemisphere who seek our help.

What has actually happened is that the United States government has retreated before the world and given up that section of the Monroe Doctrine which commits this country to resist any attempt by European powers "to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere."

This means that, in the face of the Soviet occupation of a country only 90 miles away from our shores, the United States government acquiesces in such an encroachment on the Monroe Doctrine by the Soviet government.

Thus, as Winston Churchill once said, surrender or unwillingness to fight for what is right when the military odds are in one's favor leads eventually to a big war in which the risks are greater and the involvement is far more dangerous.

The Cuban policy of the administration is properly an issue for speakers in the current congressional campaign.

"To Tell The Truth, It Was My Fault"

N. Y. Unions Supporting Rock y

By VICTOR RIESEL

Early on the morning of Friday, Oct. 12, President Kennedy walked into the gold-colored Victorian Suite of the Hotel Carlyle.

It was there in '60, under the guidance of Arthur Goldberg, that he had really put the presidential campaign in high gear. Mr. — now Justice — Goldberg then had asked some of the country's most influential and heartiest givers among labor leaders to breakfast with Sen. Kennedy. They came. They listened. They gave.

This last Friday morning, roughly two years later, there was but one labor leader in the breakfast room crowd. The others there were also men of substance. They listened.

THE PRESIDENT said that this early in the campaign to defeat Gov. Nelson Rockefeller the Democratic party was on deficit spending — already some $400,000 in the red. Those present gave — all but the labor leader.

It's a sign of the times. At least in New York and several other key industrial states from here to Oregon.

Many influential labor leaders in New York State are bolting the Democrats for the first time in years.

They are not bolting President Kennedy. But they are not supporting all the Democrats. Some of these New York union chiefs are national leaders.

They will not openly buck the President. But for the first time they are not going along with him. Not even after long private discussions here and in Washington during which the point has been made that this fight to cut down Nelson Rockefeller in the November election is of national importance — to the prestige of the President and to the President's party in the '64 election.

There ARE many powerful leaders, especially in the needle trades, who will support the President and his candidate, the self-effacing Robert Morris Morgenthau.

But that is not the story. The big news is that leaders of more than half a million workers have told their people to go out and work for the Republican nominee. This is particularly startling to the insider. Nationally prominent labor chiefs have approved outright endorsement of Republican Rockefeller by their second-in-command.

Typical is the electrical brotherhood's militant conjurer of surprises, Harry Van Arsdale, creator of the five-hour day, easily the most influential labor chief in all but the garment section of New York labor.

Second only to him is Peter Brennan, head of the New York construction trades. They and scores like them have had entree to the governor and his top aides for four years. One of their circle puts it this way:

"We've a governor to whom we have gone on many things. He has come through on many things. Workmen's compensation, a higher minimum wage, higher unemployment insurance payments and disability benefits. And some 450,000 new jobs have been created in the state in the last 3½ years.

"And now we're supposed to say that we can't back him because he is a Republican? We aren't going to abandon a friend. We back him."

THIS MOVE is led by Van Arsdale. At a mass meeting of 3,000 members of his famed electrical brotherhood Local 3 the night before the President came into town, Van Arsdale had Rockefeller speak.

On the dais was a shy chap by name of Victor Borella, the governor's labor adviser, who is as knowledgeable as Arthur Goldberg.

During that meeting, Van Arsdale asked those among the 3,000 present to stand up if they ever had worked on a Rockefeller construction project, such as Rockefeller Center. Hundreds arose and cheered as their leader reminded them that the Rockefellerers always put up good buildings, even in the depression, and always pay good wages.

This came shortly after the launching of the 60-man State Labor Committee for the Re-election of Gov. Rockefeller.

Though there are on this committee men from the United Steelworkers and Hotel and Restaurant Workers, most of the members are from construction and building unions.

NATIONALLY these unions are part of the 3 million-member AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department. In Washington its chiefs are devoted to the administration. Some of the men close to the department hold high government posts — such as the under secretary of labor. There is no doubt of this bloc's loyalty to the Kennedy administration.

But nothing succeeds in politics like a successful election. If the New York union people help roll up a huge majority for Rockefeller, second-echelon leaders in and out of the construction trades may take a second look at the 1964 presidential election.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Why do some people attract calamity? Is it just rotten luck or what?

A friend of mine has a broken leg for the second time in 16 months. (Same leg.) Since I've known her she never has been without a cast, crutches or bandages. She has had cuts from broken glass, concussion from a bump on the head, burns from the stove and bruises from falls in the bathtub.

No one can persuade me that people do these things intentionally. After all, who wants pain and doctor bills? Is there some explanation for this? — NO SABEMOS.

Dear No Sabemos: We all know at least one "Hard Luck Hannah." My father used to say, "If it was raining soup, she'd have a fork."

Misfortune, indeed, does seem to dog certain people. These individuals are accident-prone. They subconsciously want to hurt themselves. The pain they suffer assuages the guilt for "sins"—real or imagined. And often they enjoy the extra attention from family and friends.

So, in a very real sense these people have accidents on purpose but of course you'd have a tough time persuading them that this is the case.

Tweedledum

Dear Ann: I just read the letter from the hostess who was annoyed because a certain couple always brought their 24-year-old daughter to parties which were supposed to be strictly for married couples. I am scared to death I'll be in the same boat.

I am 16 and my parents insist on dragging me everywhere with them. When I was a child I enjoyed it, but now I wish they'd leave me alone.

The other evening I was all set to go to my girl friend's house. She had baked a cake and five of us gals were going to have a hen party. My mother told me after supper that she and dad were going to my aunt's and I had to go, too.

This aunt is a pill. She has no children and I have no one to talk to there. I'm always bored stiff.

Do you feel a girl should be dragged everywhere with parents —against her will? — BABY BETSY.

Dear Betsy: I do not. Teen-agers should be encouraged to develop their own interests and have their own friends.

If your parents ask you to attend certain family functions, I feel you should go. But they should not insist that you pass up an evening with your friends to accompany them to your aunt's home where you'll have nothing to do but twiddle your thumbs.

Army Ex-Wife

Dear Ann: A problem has been causing me severe mental strain. I hope you can help.

My daughter married last year. The marriage lasted five months. The fellow was in the service. At the time of the divorce the judge told my daughter she no longer would be entitled to the wives get. She said she was aware of this.

For some unknown reason the checks never were stopped. I've warned her that she may get into serious trouble with the law if she continues to cash these checks. I've even considered writing to the U.S. Army and advis-

Today is Friday, Oct. 19, the 292nd day of 1962. There are 73 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1781, the American Revolution virtually ended with the surrender at Yorktown by British Lord Cornwallis. However, peace with Britain was not formally declared until Sept. 3, 1783.

On this date: In 1765, the Stamp Act Congress issued a declaration of rights.

In 1812, Napoleon's armies began their retreat from Russia.

In 1914, the first battle of Ypres began in World War I.

In 1934, Mexico's Chamber of Deputies voted unanimously for the deportation of all Roman Catholic archbishops and bishops from Mexico.

In 1953, President Eisenhower and President Adolfo Ruiz Cortinez of Mexico dedicated the Falcon Dam on the Rio Grande River between Texas and Mexico.

Thought for today: Doubts are more cruel than the worst of truths—Moliere.

ing them of the divorce and signing her name to the letter.

Please tell me if my daughter is doing something illegal. Perhaps your answer will scare some sense into her head.—MRS. R.

Dear Mrs. R.: If your daughter won't listen to you maybe she'll listen to the chief of Advisory Services of the 5th Army Headquarters. He says your daughter is guilty of fraud and she is liable for the full amount.

Her best bet is to write to the office which has been issuing these checks. She should tell them exactly what she has been doing and for how long. If she turns herself in they may give her a break and permit her to make the repayments on an installment basis.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

So They Say

When the wheel of fortune turns the right way it can turn some people's heads.

Any junk dealer would get the thrill of his life if he could see the contents of a hundred women's purses dumped out at the same time.

Revenue agents hang around where the moon is likely to come over the mountain.

Don't fall asleep at the switch when it might turn your youngsters into juvenile delinquents.

A wallet is always a nice gift but it's not much use to Dad until some time after vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hephner

Barbara Lowmiller Wed To David C. Hephner

Gowned in chantilly lace, Miss Barbara Lowmiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lowmiller of Minerva RD 2, was united in marriage Sunday in the New Franklin Methodist Church to David C. Hephner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hephner of Franklin Square Road, Lisbon.

Rev. Forrest Willis, pastor of the church performed the double ring ceremony at 2:30 p.m. before an altar banked with white gladioli, spider mums and palms.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a lace gown designed with a fitted basque bodice and a scoop neckline. The scalloped edge was accented by tiny seed pearls, with long tapered, pointed sleeves. The back of the skirt had cascading ruffles from the waistline to the hem. A triple-tiered crown of sheer petals held her veil of nylon illusion. She carried a white Bible with a spray arrangement of white spider mums, daisy pomps and French spider mums.

Miss Nancy Lowmiller was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Lowmiller of Minerva, cousin of the bride, and Miss Nancy Hane of Robertsville.

fall flowers, continued the autumn bridal theme.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: To get the last bit of shortening out of the can, fill it with boiling water then let it cool. The shortening will rise to the top and harden for easy removal. If you will coat the covers of cook books with clear shellac, drips and spills will wash off easily!

I remove the burned taste from scorched milk by placing the pan in cold water and adding a pinch of salt to the milk.

I tenderize chicken by rubbing the inside and outside with lemon juice before cooking.

DIANE PAYNE

DEAR HELOISE: I like the new detergent tables for my automatic washer, but first I always let them dissolve in an old peanut butter glass jar in some hot water before dumping this in my washing machine.

This only takes about five minutes. This way I find that I can use tepid water or even cold water to do the washing. This saves buying "cold water" soap.

A World War I veteran, he served with the Fifth Division of American Expeditionary Forces in France. ### Harry Cook

Harry H. Cook, 81, of Western Reserve Road, RD 4, Salem, died of pneumonia at 3:30 p.m. Thursday at his home after a two-month illness.

Born Dec. 28 1880, in Berlin Township, he was a son of John and Hannah Holeman Cook. He lived his entire life in this area. A stationary engineer for the Republic Iron and Steel Co. in Youngstown for 23 years, Mr. Cook retired in 1946. He was a member of the Berlin Center Methodist Church.

Besides his wife, the former Leona Early, whom he married Oct. 21, 1905, he leaves a son, Ross Graden Cook at home, and one granddaughter.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Williams Funeral Home in Canfield where friends may call from 7 to 9 p.m. Saturday. Rev. Dale Wagner will be in charge of services, and burial will be in Bunker Hill Cemetery.

partment sessions.

Leaving the "working dinner" which Rusk had given for him and his advisers, he greeted newsmen with a teasing remark, noting that it was then 12:20 a.m.

"Why are you not sleeping?" In a serious vein he said: "We talked of matters of mutual interest. If I said we did not touch on a German peace treaty you would not believe me; yes, we did."

In talking about the Soviet position he said that it had been covered in many statements and added: "The Soviet position was elaborated with Mr. Rusk."

Gromyko planned to return today to New York where he has been attending the U.N. General Assembly session. He said he will "leave for the East" on Sunday. He will thus be able to make a personal report to Khrushchev early next week.

While neither American nor Soviet informants would discuss the status of plans for a possible Khrushchev visit, U.S. officials believe he is almost certain to come.

One pressure working in favor of a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting is that both seem to feel it is better to talk than to let the dispute grow worse. Khrushchev took that line in his meeting in Moscow Tuesday with U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler.

FINED BY COUNTY JUDGE

LISBON — Dorothy Hofman, 39, Lisbon RD, received a suspended $5 fine at a hearing Thursday before County Judge James L. MacDonald for failing to signal a left turn. Rebecca Darling, 60, of Minerva, was fined $5 and costs for failing to yield the right of way.

Chief Bauman Feted By 300 At Damascus

Approximately 300 persons gathered at a testimonial dinner Wednesday evening in West Branch High School to honor Fire Chief William Bauman Sr. of Damascus for his "many years of faithful and unselfish service to the citizens of the community."

A community gift was presented Mr. Bauman who has been chief of the Damascus Volunteer Fire Department since February, 1949. Mrs. Bauman also received a gift.

A play, "A Day at the Bauman Home," written by Mrs. Merlin Stanley, was presented and music was provided by the Mode Makers of Youngstown, a barbershop quartet.

The dinner was served by members of the West Branch Band Mothers Club and the committee in charge of arrangements for the event was composed of Mrs. Paul Bayless, Ellis Steer, Earl Mather, Mrs. Merlin Stanley, Bruce Riley and Gordon Santee.

Donald Abels was master of ceremonies for the evening, with the invocation given by Rev. Edward Escoline, pastor of the Damascus Friends Church. Dr. Paul E. Froman, pastor of the Damascus Methodist Church, gave the benediction.

Nineteen members comprised the complement of the original volunteer fire department which was organized in 1944 to provide fire protection for the residents of Damascus and surrounding areas. A new fire station was completed in 1958 through the efforts of the sesqui-centennial committee and other organizations as well as civic minded citizens of the area.

Present officers of the department are Chief Bauman; assistant chief, George Ailes; captain, Carl Hans; first lieutenant, Wade Broomall, and second lieutenant, Clifford Kerr.

Agents Thursday took into custody Paul Dougherty, 37, an Ohio National Guard sergeant from Trenton and charged him with failing to report theft of government property.

Nebbergall and Roy Bailey, 37, of Fairborn, arrested earlier in the case, both face charges of stealing government property worth more than $100.

cuts will mean a quick upsurge of consumer spending and of business outlays for future growth. This would guarantee 1963 the upth that 1962 has lacked.

McKinley doesn't hold with those who think much of the money accruing to individuals and corporations from lower tax rates would simply go into increased savings accounts or into piling of debts.

"The vigor with which the economy will respond to the reduction in taxes is likely to astound us," he says.

Nor does he believe there are any basic maladjustments today that make a recession inevitable. He cites the fairly modest size of inventories, the absence of any wild consumer credit boom, the soundness of financial institutions the adequate supply of business credit.

and demolished."

Mrs. Zizka, mother of two children still in Czechoslovakia, was clad in a nightgown and lay on the bedroom floor. She apparently had been shot through the head while in bed, then rolled to the floor.

Miles Vejoda, mission counsel, told of breaking down the door to get into the third-floor apartment after Mrs. Zizka failed to answer the telephone or repeated knocks at the door.

Vejoda, in his official statement, said: "On the table there was a report written by Mr. Zizka explaining that he killed his wife and that he will commit suicide. According to all persons who have known them, the Zizkas' family life was happy and quiet."

"And this tragic event can be explained only by a sudden mental breakdown."

Vejoda claimed that police were notified immediately after the discovery of Mrs. Zizka's body, between noon and 1 p.m.

After finding Mrs. Zizka, Czech officials made no attempt to interfere with the city police investigation, despite the diplomatic immunity enjoyed by the mission.

Regarding the slaying, Deputy Chief Inspector George W. Gallagher said: "No police action is planned, there are no charges to be made. The incident occurred on foreign territory. We have no jurisdiction. There will be no autopsy. The body will not go to the morgue."

The Zizkas came to this country three years ago. They left their two children, a boy 15, and a girl, 18, behind in Prague.

auditors in 1952 that, based on past tax duplicates and its study of local property prices, their next abstract must show a valuation in the aggregate of at least 50 per cent of market value.

Cuyahoga County, which fought it and lost, had to raise its duplicate 26.73 per cent. In the first equalization 51 years ago, Paulding County was raised 379 per cent. The only other equalization was in 1926.

Valuation set by the auditor is the one against which the realty tax of up to 10 mills—a penny—is levied. Voters can authorize levies beyond this penny-on-the-dollar.

What most state tax officials hope to see eventually is a uniform method of appraising property and an accompanying uniform evaluation for tax purposes.

PLENTY OF POWER WHENEVER YOU NEED IT

This "wall of light" is just one of the ways you may use electricity in the not-so-distant future. But no matter how many such wonders enrich your life, you can count on your electric company to provide plenty of power to run them.

In fact, all over America, investor-owned electric companies, like this one, are building new plants and lines that will double the supply of electricity in the next ten years. We can supply all the electric power the nation will ever need!

DEAF MAN PERFECTS SMALLEST HEARING AID

ST. PAUL, Minn. (Special) — A remarkable midget hearing aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years.

This small aid has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a most unusual idea and design in a product for the hard of hearing.

It is especially made for those people who can hear but not understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sounds, television and radio at his ear rather than at a transmitter located in the wearer's clothing.

Due to the use of 4 transistors, the user cost is extremely low and the instrument weighs approximately 1/4 ounce. It is about the size of a sewing thimble.

OSU Battles Northwestern Saturday In Homecoming

24 Wildcats Are From Ohio

Undefeated Miami
Meets OU In MAC

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Saturday is homecoming day as Ohio State and Northwestern battle before 84,000 in the Big Ten's No. 1 clash of the day.

And a flock of Ara Parseghian's unbeaten Wildcats can get in on the ceremonies, for 24 of his 72 players are products of the Buckeye realm. Eight are lettermen, and another — quarterback Tom Myers of Troy—is his biggest threat.

Myers, an 18-year-old sophomore who threw 71 touchdown passes as a high school star, has completed 43 of 60 this year for 634 yards and 7 scores.

The Wildcats have hit the airways for 744 yards, best in the country, and their 116 points in three conquests tie them for second in the land with Wisconsin. Ohio State paces the pack in rushing with 1,060 yards, so this climactic clash pits the nation's best ground-eating corps against the best of the aerial gunners.

Ohio State is sixth and Northwestern seventh in the national ratings, and the Bucks are seven-point favorites to grab the verdict and continue on toward the Big Ten title.

The Buckeye-Wildcat clash is not the only big one on the 24-game program for Ohio colleges Saturday.

Down Athens way, the Mid-American Conference loses one of its "clean" members as Miami's Redskins go against Ohio University's Bobcats. Miami has a five-game winning streak while Ohio University has won four. They are tied at 2-0 in the Mid-American.

The odds-makers have the Bobcats a half-point favorite in this one, probably figuring on a Miami letdown after its 10-7 upset of Purdue last week.

Another red-hot tussle sends Capital (3-0) against defending champion Wittenberg (4-0) in an Ohio Conference contest at Springfield. This pair and Akron (4-0) are the only unbeaten teams in the circuit, and the Zippers entertain Wooster (1-2-1).

Bowling Green (4-0) leads the Mid-American with 3-0 and is host to Kent State (2-3).

Western Reserve and John Carroll, both of the Presidents' Conference, round out the unbeaten contingent with 2-0. Reserve goes against Wayne and Carroll is at home against Allegheny.

Also on the slate are Mount Union at Denison, Muskingum at Heidelberg, Kenyon at Baldwin-Wallace, Oberlin at Ohio Wesleyan and Hiram at Otterbein (N) in the Ohio Conference.

Case Tech entertains Bethany in the Presidents' loop, Wilmington goes to Ashland in the Mid-Ohio and these non-league frays round out the slate: Dayton at Xavier, Albright at Youngstown, Waynesburg at Marietta, Cincinnati at North Texas, DePaul at Northwood, Rochester at Findlay, Tennessee State at Central State and Ohio Northern at Bluffton (N).

4 Nationally Ranked Teams Test Each Other Saturday

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
There's only one thing certain about this weekend's major college football games: There'll be some changes made.

Four of the nationally ranked teams test each other in a couple of Saturday games that could have a vital bearing on the No. 1 spot in the nation, the Southwest Conference title and the Big Ten championship.

Those match seventh-ranked Arkansas against top-dog Texas at Austin and sixth-ranked Ohio State against No. 8 Northwestern on the Buckeyes' home field.

Since it figures that someone is going to lose in those two, the national rankings are due for a shakeup for the fifth week in a row.

Mighty Alabama, edged out of the No. 1 spot this week, is counting on just that—a shakeup—in its hopes to regain the top spot. But to do so, Bear Bryant's defense-minded Crimson Tide has to get past Tennessee, which is much tougher than its 0-3 record would indicate.

That one is due for regional television coverage, as is Oregon (3-1) at Air Force (3-1) and Rice (0-2-1) at Southern Methodist (0-3).

The weekend program opens tonight with Maryland (4-0) at Miami, Fla. (3-1). It features a clash of two of the nation's top quarterbacks, George Mira of Miami and Maryland's Dick Shiner.

Other games Saturday involving nationally ranked teams include California at third-ranked Southern California, No. 4 Louisiana State at Kentucky, No. 5 Mississippi vs. Tulane at Jackson, Miss., No. 9 Washington at Stanford and Iowa at No. 10 Wisconsin.

The Texas-Arkansas affair figures to be the big one. Should Arkansas pull off the upset (Texas is favored by 5½ points), the Razorbacks would appear to be in good shape to claim a fourth straight title. They were co-champions last season.

The Ohio State-Northwestern clash at Columbus shapes up as scoring circus. Ohio State (2-1) owns the nation's best ground attack and Northwestern (3-0) claim the best passing attack. The Buckeyes rank as a one-touchdown favorite.

Alabama (4-0) the defending national champion, will need a decisive victory over Tennessee to regain the top spot, and Tennessee has long been an Alabama jinx when playing on the Vols' home field.

Southern California (3-0) doesn't expect major trouble from California (1-3).

Louisiana State (3-0-1) is a 14-point choice over Kentucky (1-2-1), and Mississippi (3-0) is a similar pick over winless Tulane (0-4).

Washington (3-0-1) is favored over Stanford (2-2). Wisconsin (3-0) is a narrow favorite over Iowa (2-1).

Wants Bout With Fullmer, Tiger Winner

Pender Will Retire After 3 More Fights; Faces Torres

NORTH FALMOUTH, Mass. (AP) — Paul Pender punctuated preparations for the Nov. 2 defense of his partial middleweight crown today by announcing he'll retire after three more fights.

The outspoken ex-fireman, who once condemned the fight game and said he tolerated it strictly for the money, risks his share of the 160-pound crown at Boston Garden against unbeaten Jose Torres next month.

"Just three more bouts, and I'll quit," said Pender, 32, as he honed his sharp left hand at his Coonamisset Golf Club training camp. "I'll fight Torres, the winner of the Gene Fullmer-Dick Tiger match (next Tuesday) and then one more.

"And that'll be that. This is no way to live. A man can't be away from his family for two and three months a year and like it. Boxing has been good to me, but you have to know when to quit.

"Before I do, I want that single-title bout with Fullmer or Tiger. There shouldn't be any trouble getting it either.

"What's held it up so far has been television. Sponsors won't televise any title fight this year, but it should be different next year."

Pender really wants Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, in the oft-postponed middleweight showdown because Paul still feels he beat Gene seven years ago in Brooklyn, N.Y., despite the fact he suffered a broken right hand.

Fullmer currently rates a 7-to-5 underdog to Tiger in defense of his title recognized in 48 states.

Pender is little more than even odds against Torres risking the crown recognized in two states and Europe.

Pender picks Fullmer over Tiger.

Fleming, Wooten May Not Play Against Cards

CLEVELAND (AP) — While Cleveland has a string of injured players, only defensive halfback Don Fleming and offensive guard John Wooten, both with ankle sprains, seem to be hurt seriously enough to be sidelined for Sunday's game at St. Louis with the Cardinals.

Jim Brown, bothered by a swollen left hand, may have the incentive to run wild in his battle to get back in the rushing race the big Browns' fullback has won for five straight years. He had one of his poorest days with 11 yards gained and three fumbles against Baltimore last Sunday.

Brown has gained 342 yards in 81 carries and is in sixth place among league rushers. Jim Taylor of Green Bay leads with 582 yards.

The Cardinals have a 1-3-1 record, compared to Cleveland's 2-3 mark. So both have to win to remain contenders in the topsy-turvy Eastern Division battle.

The Cardinals also have two seriously injured players. Dale Meier, a linebacker, has a twisted knee, while safety man Larry Wilson has a pulled thigh muscle.

New Offense Paces Wings 'n NHL Race

DETROIT (AP)—An obscure little change in strategy is a major reason for the Detroit Red Wings' surging start in the National Hockey League.

It's a switch in attacking style and has resulted in three victories and a tie in four games. The unbeaten streak has sent the Red Wings three points ahead of the pack in the early NHL race.

"We're doing something different this year," revealed Coach Sid Abel Thursday night after Detroit beat the Boston Bruins 5-3 and became the last undefeated NHL team.

"We're passing back to the defensemen much more and letting them take the shots to start the play. This spreads out their defense and has paid off big for us."

Deadlocked behind them in second are Boston, the Chicago Black Hawks and the perennial league champion Montreal Canadiens.

The Canadiens beat the Stanley Cup champion Toronto Maple Leafs 4-2 in Thursday night's other NHL game with Bernie Geoffrion scoring the tie-breaking goal in the third period.

80 Of 108 Votes Go To Angels' Pilot

Rigney Is Named Manager Of Year; Mele Picked 2nd

INDIAN WELLS, Calif. (AP)—There was a tinkling of cocktail glasses and happy talk in the background as Bill Rigney was called to the telephone in the lounge of the Indian Wells Country Club.

The call advised Rigney that he had been named the 1962 Manager of the Year in the American League in the annual poll by The Associated Press.

The vote was overwhelming for the pilot of the Los Angeles Angels, whose third place finish this year might be termed the critics' No. 1 consternation of the year. They had overwhelmingly picked Rigney's Angels to finish well in the second division in this, only their second year in major league baseball.

Of the 108 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers Association, 80 went to the Angel skipper.

Sam Mele of the second place Minnesota Twins was second, with 25, and Ralph Houk of the World Champion Yankees was third with three.

The reaction of Rigney, who is playing here in the annual major league ballplayers' golf tournament, matched the merriment in the background of the lounge.

"Naturally," Rigney led off, "I am very honored. I can only say at first that there are other managers in the league. Sam Mele, Houk—who deserve this honor as much as I do.

"A lot of our managers did remarkable jobs, so I am particularly happy and pleased. I feel wonderful."

Throughout the season Los Angeles baseball fans and writers used such adjectives as "amazing" and "astounding" for the Angels, and "remarkable" was the favorite for the 43-year-old Rigney.

For the remarkable actually ed the league on the traditional July 4 and were still tough and in contention by Labor Day.

In the final two weeks Los Angeles tailed off and wound up 10 games behind New York and five behind Minnesota.

Salem's Juniors Register 24-6 Win For 4th Victory

Salem's Junior High School football team spotted East Liverpool East a TD early in the first quarter, then stormed back to win a 24-6 decision at East Liverpool yesterday.

Coach Bing Newton's squad will face East Liverpool West in a Parents Day clash next Thursday at Reilly Stadium at 4 p.m.

Salem posted its fourth win in six starts, while handing East its second defeat in four tries.

End Jim Lantz scored Salem's first touchdown on a seven - yard pass from quarterback Doug Plastow. Lantz, who set up the TD by recovering a fumble, then caught a pass from Plastow for the extra points to put the Quakers ahead to stay.

The Potters' only score was set up with an intercepted pass. It took the losers eight plays to cover 40 yards, with fullback Chuck Roach dashing the last 25 for the TD.

Dick Migliorini pounced on an East fumble to set up the Quakers' next touchdown.

The drive included a fourth down 15-yard pass play, Plastow to Lantz.

Fullback Rick Alesi smashed over from five yards out to clinch the 45-yard, nine-play TD march.

Hoffman set up Salem's final score when he returned an intercepted pass from the East 15 to the losers' two-yard line. He bucked over for the six points on the very next play.

Coach Newton was pleased with his team's performance. The Quakers picked up 144 yards rushing, and completed nine of 14 passes for 78 yards.

Walt Johnson, a 195-pound tackle got off a booming 45-yard punt for Salem during the contest.

Lantz, the leading pass receiver for the Quakers, has missed catching only one aerial all season.

49ers Favored Over Packers; Browns Picked To Beat Cards

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Balance, the bane of a forecaster's existence, has begun to show itself in both the National and American Football Leagues. It is now time for the femme fatale to enter — namely, Lady Luck.

Injuries may have a definite bearing this week on success or failure of the Green Bay Packers and New York Giants while the return of injured players may spell the difference for the Baltimore Colts and Los Angeles Rams.

This week's selections (last week 5 correct; 5 wrong; 1 tie; season 30-31-2):

NFL
San Francisco over Green Bay — Packers are expected to be without halfback, place kicker and top scorer Paul Hornung because of an injured knee. After 13 consecutive victories, including a toughie and a breeze in last two games, Packers could fall to momentum 49ers have gained from running of J. D. Smith and Bill Kilmer and passing of John Brodie.

Detroit over New York — Not by much but absence of end Del Shofner and questionable status of halfback Paul Dudley, plus Lions' big defense will be the difference.

Philadelphia over Washington — King Hill takes over quarterbacking for Eagles, whose ground offense showed signs of reawakening despite drubbing by Dallas last week. Norm Snead may be running out of miracles and Philly's fierce desire to win to keep glimmer of title hopes should make the difference.

Pittsburgh over Dallas — This may be the Steelers year and running of John Henry Johnson and Joe Womack, Bobby Layne's quarterbacking, plus that huge defense too much for Cowboys.

Baltimore over Chicago — Lenny Moore is back at flanker for the Colts and quarterback Johnny Unitas is back in the groove with his passing. These two, plus improvement of Tom Matte and R.C. Owens, too much for Bears.

Cleveland over St. Louis — Jimmy Brown will play with a sore wrist but even the Browns have more all-around talent than do Cardinals, who again go with soph quarterback Charley Johnson.

Los Angeles over Minnesota — Rams at home and Jon Arnett back for full service means end to five-game losing streak. Vikings also 0-5, improving but will have to wait for another day.

Boston over San Diego — This American Football League game tonight will keep Patriots in thick

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Our milk business is growing every week. You can be sure of the finest selection of dairy products when you visit the Country Store. The prices are lower on many items than you would pay elsewhere. The savings on milk alone over what you would pay for home delivery would be well worth your time and effort.

Some dairies have discontinued milk delivery to homes and are now selling it through stores. We like the milk business, it brings people to our store.

Questions—Answers

—Is the President Commander-in-Chief of the Coast Guard?
A—Only in time of war.

—How old is the verse beginning "Thirty days hath September, April, June and November?"

The origin of the verse is lost in antiquity. The year 1570 marks its first appearance in English literature when Richard Grafton included it in an almanac.

PROBATION PROBE SET
LISBON — A probation investigation has been ordered by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard for Ronald R. Hathman, 24, of Campbell, who was found guilty by the judge Thursday of the burglary of the J. & E. Record Shop in Columbiana. Hathman asked the court for probation.

This and That

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: Those who are happy themselves, psychologists have found, are best at judging correctly the qualities of others. The unhappy man tends to see his own faults in the other fellow.

Women, generally, are also better than men at sizing up other people. Exception: Love blinds them to what's wrong in their own husbands.

Many doctors now agree that the first signs of an approaching illness often show up in a dream, long before the actual physical symptoms appear.

An old ruling in Washington, D.C., made it illegal for a man to marry either his grandmother or his mother-in-law.

Our quotable notables: "The more a man knows, and the farther he travels, the more likely he is to marry a country girl!" — George Bernard Shaw.

During the 18th century, homes of the European wealthy often had two tubs in a bathroom—one for washing with soap, the other for rinsing it off.

Fewer than 10 per cent of those who diet to lose weight manage to keep it off. The simplest way to keep your weight constant is to cut down the amount of food you eat one per cent each year after the age of 25.

Can you name the only man who signed these four crucial documents in early American history — the Declaration of Independence, the U.S. Constitution, treaty of alliance with France and treaty of peace with England? He was Benjamin Franklin.

The Journal of the American Medical Association notes: "Scientists now tell us there are 1,600 things a married man can worry about; a bachelor has only 1,100 things to worry about."

Paper money was invented by the Chinese, but the world's most highly valued notes are those of $100,000 denomination issued by the U.S. Treasury and bearing the portrait of President Woodrow Wilson.

There is poetry in words. Our word muscle comes from the Latin term "musculus," meaning "little mouse," for the ancients truly observed our muscles move like little mice beneath the rampart of our skin.

A whale can dive a mile beneath the surface. A dog's noseprint is as individual as one of your fingerprints. Ants will eat practically anything people will.

It was Oscar Wilde who observed: "We live in an age when unnecessary things are our only necessities."

Ellsworth Ruritan Club Will Hold Saturday Event

ELLSWORTH — Executive committee members of the Berlin Ellsworth Ruritan Club met recently at the home of Dave Myers to complete plans for the annual fish dinner to be held Saturday at Ellsworth School.

The next dinner meeting of the club will be Monday at Berlin Methodist Church.

Fellowship Class of the United Presbyterian Church held a luncheon in the Fellowship Hall of the

Beekopers Suffered Losses Last Winter

LISBON — Severe weather last winter caused heavy losses to Columbiana County beekeepers, according to a report to the county commissioners from William Marty of East Palestine, county apary inspector.

A total of 395 colonies were lost during the winter, he said. Unity Township had the most apiaries, 31, but only 127 colonies. Elkrum Township had 28 apiaries and 251 colonies.

Salem Township led in American foul brood cases with four, followed by Hanover and Fairfield townships, three each; Unity, two, and Middleton and West, one each.

when conditions were better. REV. FRED COCHRAN, Mr. Richard Klyne and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bowman attended the recent October Presbytery meeting of Mahoning Presbytery at Hanover Church.

A dinner was served by the Hanover Church Women.

Forty members and friends of the Ellsworth Extension Club took a recent bus trip stopping first at St. Catherine's in Canada, and later taking a two-hour conducted tour of the hydro-electric plant nearing completion on the American side of Niagara Falls.

This is the largest electric power plant in the western world and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, recently dedicated and opened the 12th and last gate.

The group toured the park area around the Falls and remained until the special lights were turned on at 8 p.m.

MRS. WALTER YEAGER is in the Salem City Hospital for X-rays taken and observation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown and Mr. Jones left recently to spend the winter in Orlando, Fla.

Mrs. Hugh Boyer, who is quite ill, is spending some time in the home of her niece, Mrs. Ira Kessler in Ellsworth Center.

Miss Jane Cochran visited recently at home with Rev. and Mrs. F. Cochran. Jane is a student in Mt. Union College.

Mrs. Frank Burgoyne has returned to her home after spending some time visiting with relatives in West Virginia.
